Lots of Walking!

Please register by June 12, 2017

We arrive at the National Parks Visitor Center in time to view a 23 minute film on the history of New Bedford's Whaling Past.

At 10:30am, we begin an hour long guided walking tour with a National Parks Ranger through the cobblestoned streets of the park and waterfront, while exploring the stories associated with the New Bedford's maritime past and present.

Lunch will be on your own.

At 1pm, we will have a 90 minute, docent led, guided tour through the New Bedford Whaling Museum. Afterwards, there will be time to further explore the Museum or walk around the downtown area before departing at 4pm.
